MOTHER JOHNSON'S MESSAGE

"The last time" echoes through Room 5, 7B and 13 these last few months. It was, for the graduating class, the last Dashabustadd, the last Spring Break, the last Family Mass, the last International Day, the last Father-Daughter Breakfast, the last Sacred Heart report card, the last BLC, the last General Assembly, the last class, the last examination, the last day of high school! Who, five years ago, would have been able to see this far ahead?

May the Sacred Heart customs and traditions which have marked these five years be a source of joy to you in retrospect; may the lessons you have learned from the faculty and from one another in our Sacred Heart family give you the strength and assurance to meet all the "firsts" which await you. May God be with you now and may He bless each "first" as it comes along. Au revoir "my fans". I look forward to greeting you as alumnae for years to come.

It's Hard to Say Goodbye

Moderately $\text{♩} = 66$

mp

We must face the future, we must follow our dreams
We must be strong, no matter how scary it seems
We can survive
Look at us now we've climbed so high
So here's to you, and the things we leave behind
Joyful times we will treasure in our hearts and minds

Chorus

And after all that we've been through
It's so hard to say goodbye
It's time to spread our wings and fly away
The seasons will change
Just like you and me
But friends forever we will be

These are the times to remember, and you are the friends to hold dear
All of this wonderful life we are sharing, it feels so good to be here
Keep smiling and growing
Look at us now we've climbed so high
So here's to you, our family we can depend on
It's not goodbye but adieu 'til we meet again

Chorus

I want to travel as far as I can go
I want to feel the joy that's in my soul
And change the limitations that I know
And feel my mind and spirit grow (2x)

I want to live, exist, I want "to be"
And feel the joys inside of me (2x)
I want to find myself.

Chorus

ROBERT FROST: THE ROAD NOT TAKEN... "Somewhere ages and ages hence: Two roads diverged in a yellow wood, and I - I took the one less travelled by, and that made all the difference." Hey Janet I made a few waves. B.B with the green eyes and the glasses. Jane, Annick, Angie (both), Kerry, Olga, Blondie, Sabrina. The whole class made a difference. Good luck everyone! I made it finally!!!

Love,
Helen

P.S. This is for Janet and Barbra. STATFORD!! I don't know why I had to do that!!

CYNTHIA KAZANDJIAN

By the way, this picture doesn't do me justice. Changes hairstyle 50 times a day. Most important question... Your sign? Gemini to the max. Town walks with LM and fun cab rides with KL. Life ambition is to be one with the wind. Paranoid... Who me? All A student without a doubt. In and out of love on a daily basis. "How do rumours get started?" Secondary I border days. Tons of love from LB and YW. Idolizes Marilyn... Greatest giver of advice. No one will ever figure me out. Lives on impulse. Loves to smile. 165 bus rides with MT and MC. Sonny and Cher with Natalie. 143 poopsie. Friends with t. wonder known as SL. Oh no, communications! I promise you AG. New York, if I can make it there, I can make it anywhere! Closet intellectual. Can make any teacher laugh. Eats well balanced meals by nature. My years at SH brought laughter just as they brought tears, which all helped me to grow... Thank you, I love you all!

OLGA KOVALIK

"There is a pleasure sure, in being mad, which none but madmen know" Jean, thanks for all the good times. "Claire & Jean, if you don't stop laughing, you know what will happen." Don't be so lame. Kerry, it's not that disgusting. Kate, the idea is to pass the note when the teacher isn't looking wildbeast. Let's do little Red Riding Hood. Trina, you've saved my sanity. My science project with Klee. Summer '86. Angie, have you seen my books? Susan S. rap me. Thanks to my parents, J.P., M.A., J.E., "Partir, c'est mourir un peu." This is getting boring, so I'll stop.

CLAIRE KUSY

Sitting at my desk, desperately racking my brain for something to write . . . just joking Kris! Ambition: Medical Doctor; Probable destination: Voodoo Witchdoctor; Piggy and Pippin Cox; F. Scott, Jasper Alexander (J.U.), Celia Vaughn and Iolan the notes in sharpener; T.G. (Gerbor baby); "I ain't got no home, my fambly ain't go no home . . ." What a depression! Mrs. F.: Claire? Kris: Oh, oh, yes, I am right here! He phoned me again! Ugh! A Room with a View . . . ? . . . Jeanie: Sting with, C.Y. (thanks!); It's not O.K. because it's too quiet! I love you: Tuna, M and D, K.G. DASHABUSTADD 1987

"Happy Dashabustadd!"
"Excuse me young lady, what did you say?"
"Happy Dashabustadd!"
"Will you kindly explain what you are saying?"
"Well, you see . . ."

And so begins the neverending explanation of the origins of Dashabustadd.

Every February, the students at the City House show their heartfelt appreciation to the adults in the school for all that they have done during the year. This special occasion requires preparation long in advance by all of the students: a play must be written; talent acts must be formed; presents must be made; and students must be organized.

Kerry Pajuk, the president of the student council, rendered a speech full of admiration and affection for the faculty which reflected the feelings of all the students. A play, featuring Captain Kirk and the crew of the Starship Enterprise, was presented to the delight of the whole audience. Treats were then distributed to all members of the school. The teachers particularly enjoyed their "frustration pencils"! Afterwards, the faculty was ushered into the cafeteria where they were able to mingle with the students. Then came the greatest talent show ever to hit the stage at the Sacred Heart: THE 1987 TALENT SHOW! Acts of all walks of life were given - from tap dancing to synchronized swimming to Luigi jazz. All in all, the whole morning turned out to be one of the most memorable Dashabustadd celebrations.

For the curious, the word "Dashabustadd" comes from the Latin root . . . just kidding. The term was actually derived from the first letter of each of the eight houses (D, S, H, B, S, T, D, D) and a combination of vowels to give DASHABUSTADD.

Some words for the wise: in future years, if you are travelling through Southern Asia and attempt to understand the dialects, do not use the word "Dashabustad"! You may never know what you are saying

Our two hockey lovers, Renee Crossan and Siobhan Dungan, used DASHABUSTADD as a stepping stone to skate their way to fame and recognition. A large net income is expected. When asked about future plans they replied that they will most likely stick to this line of work. Their agenda for the coming year? Letterman and Carson seem to be good possibilities . . .

About A Message From Our Editor

DID ANYONE SAY...

DEADLINE?

It was 7:45 A.M. on June 4th, 1987, when I received the distress call. Kristina announced that she just might have the chicken pox. At 10:00A.M. it was confirmed. Kristina, obviously upset, was unable to attend the Loyola Grad the next evening, and horror of all horrors, was unable to help organize the remaining pages of the Memory Book. This was definitely not Kristina's lucky day.

Yet, as I write this letter on June 10th, 1987, I am pleased to announce that the Memory Book 1987 has been completed and our deadline met. I thank all those who came to help during the final days when Kristina was incapacitated - this book would have not been the same without you.

Now, to give credit where credit is due - The majority of the artwork was done by Kristina, along with the help of Caroline, Sabrina, Helen and Tiza. The writers, Claire, Jennifer and Angie, along with the main lay-out people, Maureen, Yvonne and Kathy have combined their efforts and talents to create this very special book. Our photographers, Gwen, Annick and Laura caught all your different moods so that you can look back at the pictures and remember all the wonderful times we shared.

The Memory Book Committee extends a warm and big thank you to Kristina for her organization and enthusiasm regarding the creation of this book.

Also, a tip of the grad cap to Mrs. Moragh Kusy for her interest and concern.

To you, the Graduating Class of 1987, we give you this book filled with memories of our past, the memories we shared together. We hope you like it.

Adieu,
Susan Sztuka

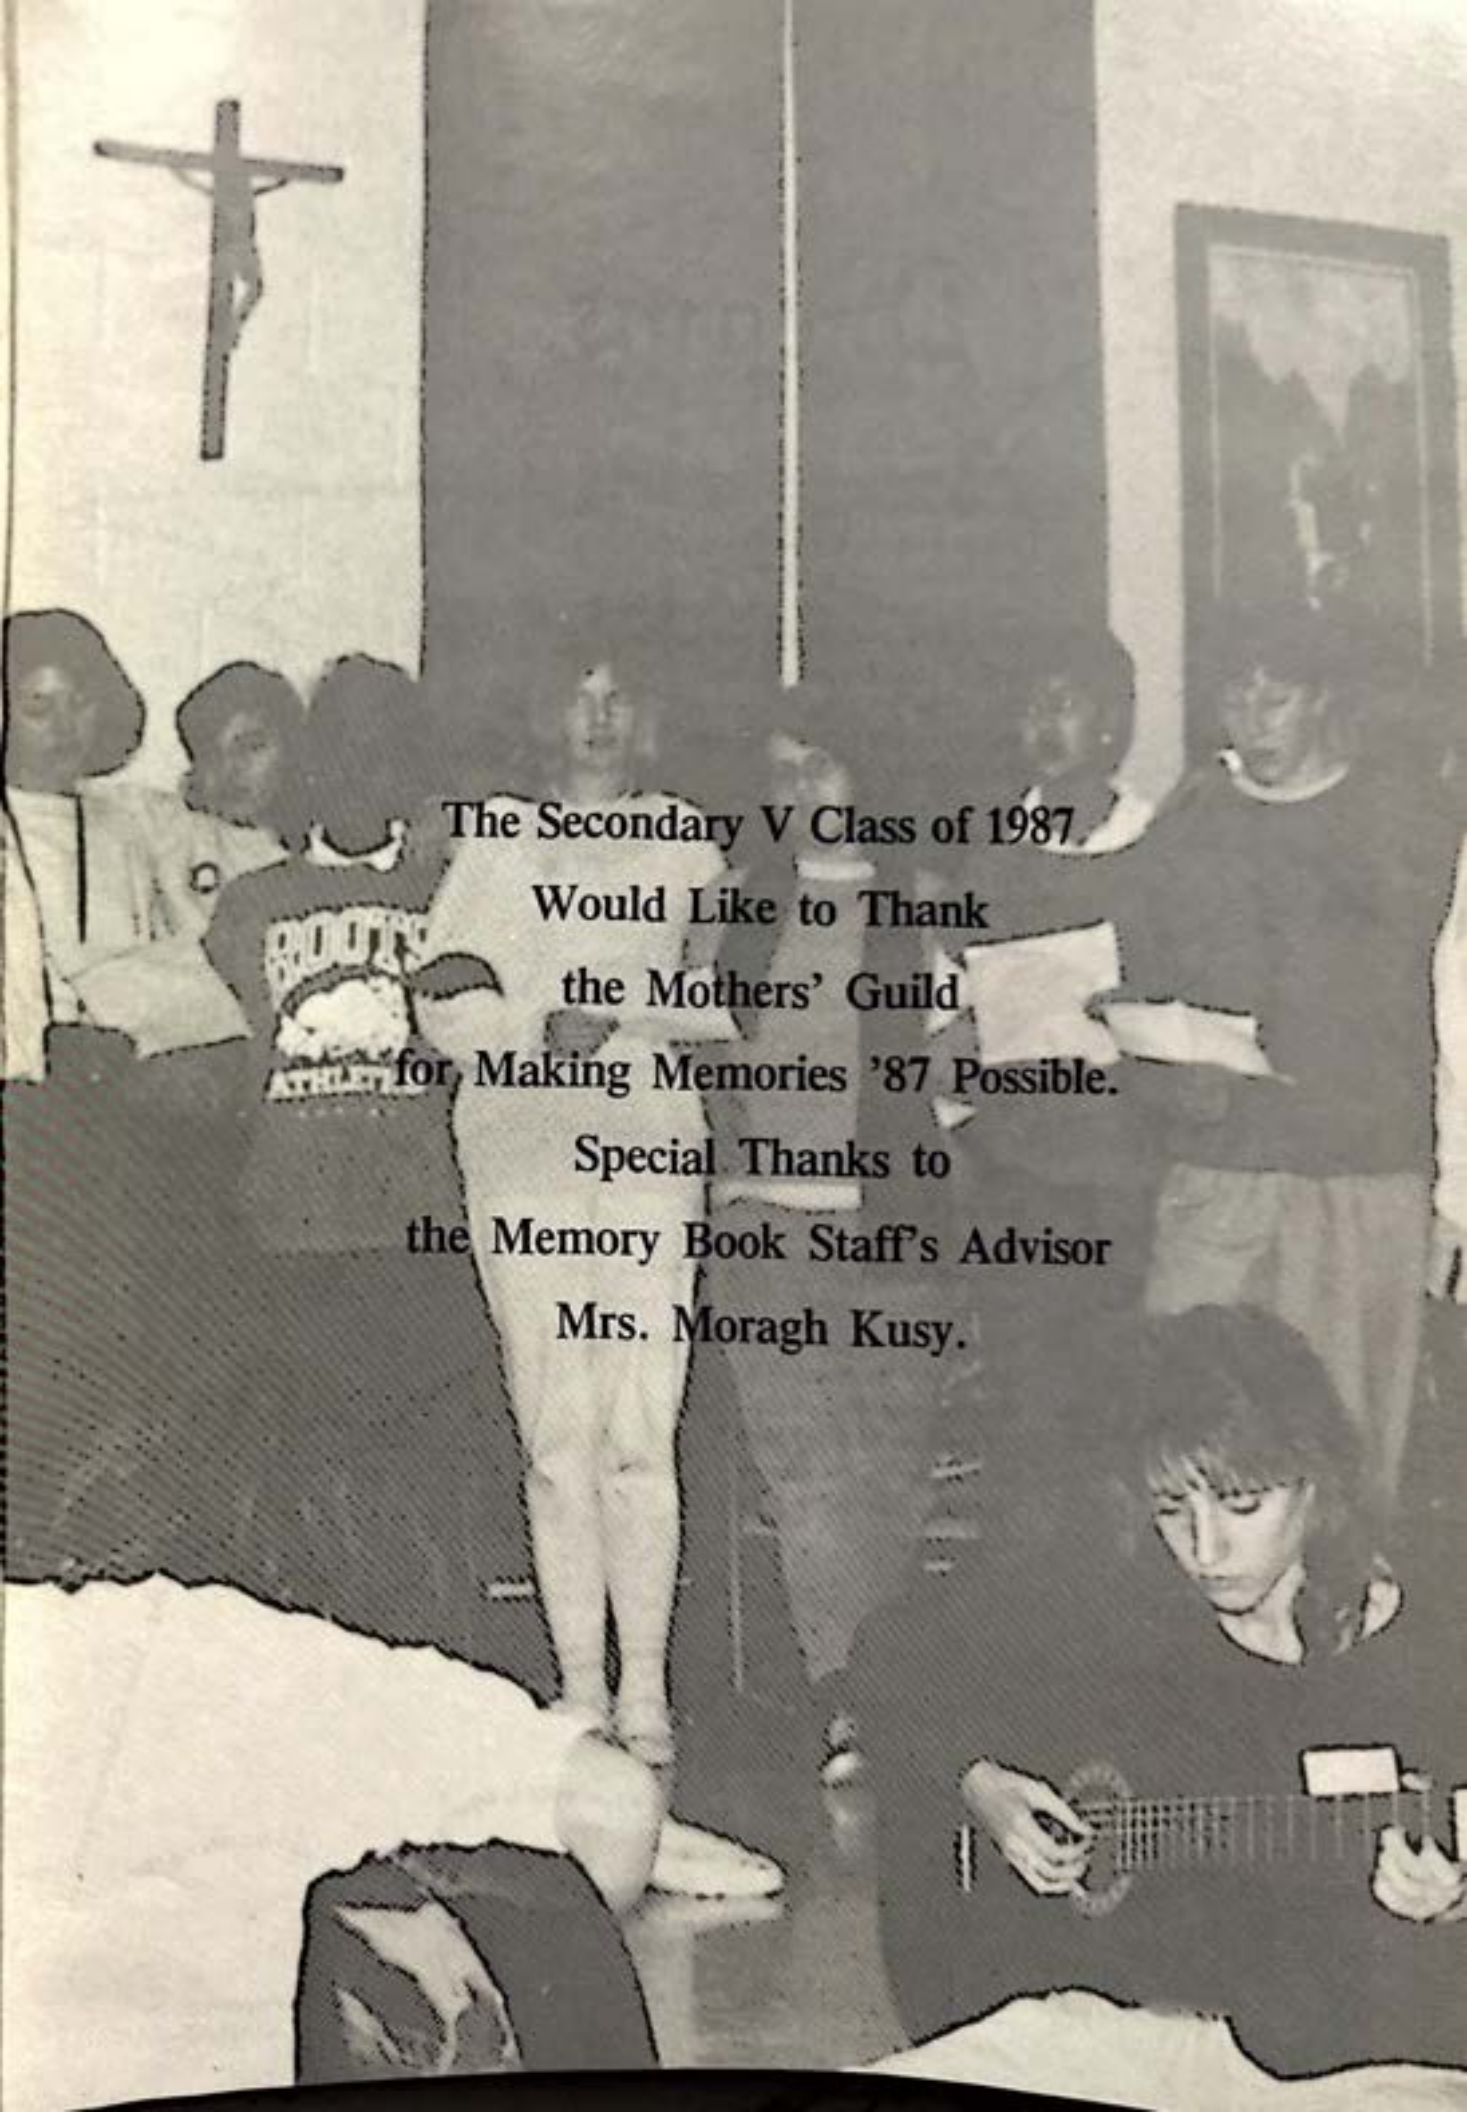

A MESSAGE FROM THE MOTHERS' GUILD

The year 1987 marks the beginning of the next one hundred and twenty-five years in which The Sacred Heart School of Montreal will continue to play an important role in the education of young women of this city. As the graduating class of 1987 you are leaving your imprint on the next chapter in the history of your school which is also an integral part of the international Sacred Heart family. During the past five years you have had the privilege of receiving your high school instruction within a loving Christian environment where the emphasis is on striving for academic excellence, healthy physical development through fitness and athletic team participation, and the spiritual guidance so necessary to grow and mature in your faith. Throughout all the stages of the Sacred Heart educational process, the paramount factor remains the recognition of the uniqueness of each student and the appreciation and encouragement given to develop the valuable, deserving attributes of every girl. Just as a particular Sacred Heart student is cherished for herself, she is also made aware of the significant place she holds within an extensive, far reaching family.

Graduation is the conclusion of one chapter in your lives but it is also the beginning of another. You are embarking on a life-long journey of belonging to and being a vital part of the all-inclusive family of the Sacred Heart. Your partnership in this vast network of LOVE and ACCEPTANCE will provide you with a sense of belonging that is truly a blessing. As you prepare to leave this school, may your Sacred Heart relationships grow to include the internationality of this special family. Only then will you fully realize the wonderful GIFT you possess, that of being a member of the worldwide Sacred Heart family.

The Mothers' Guild is grateful to Mrs. Moragh Kusy (Advisor), to Kristina Gougeon (Editor) and to the students of the Memory Book staff for the production of this excellent memorable publication. Our wish for each 1987 graduate is for good health, happiness and continuing satisfaction with the decisions you make for your future.

Dreams

A leaf shall fall
 Whilst a bird chirps his salutation call
 His last song is sung
 And its purpose left undone
 His journey will be swift and long
 And he knows that he must be strong
 He dreams of soaring to new heights
 And of past attempted flights
 But, in the breaking of the dawn,
 He knows that he must be gone
 No goodbyes are said
 No tears are shed
 A quiet departure
 Almost like that of a martyr
 Denying himself his last right
 To his goodbyes and his friends tight
 No love expressed by the light of the moon,
 No hope of reunion in his sad tune
 Conquering the present by dealing with reality
 And facing the future with ambition and vitality
 His home will be far away
 And though he may not see it another day
 'Twill not adjourn his flight
 For the future is shining bright
 His song is like that of a hero's
 His departure like that of a withering rose
 He need not express his love for others
 For he can see it in the eyes of his brothers
 He and not his words,
 Shall be cherished in their hearts
 We shall fly like this bird
 By conquering the present,
 And facing the future,
 As we part.
